alltours expands in Greece with additional allsun Hotels

- Two new allsun Hotels opening in Crete for Summer 2025
- alltours Greece S.A. established to oversee operations in Greece
- Additional allsun Hotel openings planned for 2026

The alltours Group is continuing to expand its footprint in Greece, one of the company's strongest summer destinations and currently experiencing a significant increase in demand, with high double-digit growth rates. In July 2025, alltours' hotel brand allsun Hotels will open the brand-new Carolina

Sun Beach in Crete – the first 5-star hotel in the allsun portfolio. This follows the launch of the allsun Malia Beach, a 4.5-star resort in Crete that recently began welcoming guests for the Summer 2025 season after a comprehensive renovation. allsun Hotels currently operates four properties in Greece.

All Greek allsun Hotels will now be managed under the umbrella of the newly established alltours Greece S.A., headquartered in Heraklion, Crete. The brand plans to open additional hotels across the Greek islands for the Summer 2026 season.

alltours is also expanding its presence in the club holiday segment in Greece. Its in-house brand alltours launched two new club hotels in 2025: the alltours Club Hotel Mare Blue & Village in Crete and the alltours Club Hotel Kiotari Miraluna Resort in Rhodes.

In addition to the major islands of Crete, Rhodes, and Kos, alltours offers the widest range of holidays on smaller Greek islands among German tour operators. For Summer 2025, its programme has been further expanded to include lesser-known regions of Greece. These include Zakynthos, Kefalonia and Lefkada in the Ionian Sea, Naxos and Paros in the Cyclades, and the Northern Sporades islands of Skiathos and Skopelos. alltours has also expanded its offering in the greater Athens region (including Porto Heli, Nafplio and Corinth), the Peloponnese (with destinations such as Kalamata and Kyllini), as well as Thessaloniki, serving as a base for trips to Chalkidiki and the Olympic Riviera.
